

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An electronic interactive system including an electronic device and a book for use with the electronic device. The electronic device includes an optical page identification system capable of autonomously identifying page identifier codes uniquely associated with each of a plurality of page spreads of the book.

5